

We all have the ability to act powerfully for good. We all have assets worth knowing and sharing. (Adapted from John McKnight-2013 NUSA Conference)

Name:
Address:
Phone:
Email:
Date:

1. What are your most significant gifts? These are things you were born with, not something you learned...
 - a. Would you be willing to share your gifts with others on your block, in your neighborhood, in the community?

2. What are your most significant skills? These are not natural gifts, but things you have learned and applied...
 - a. Would you be willing to share your skills with others on your block, in your neighborhood, in the community?

3. What are your passions? These are the things you care about in your home, your block, your neighborhood, your community...
 - a. Would you be willing to share your passions with others on your block, in your neighborhood, in the community?

4. What do you know well enough that you would be willing to teach?

5. What would you like to learn?

6. What groups do you belong to? These are the clubs, craft circles, professional associations, employers, churches, or other affiliations that you have...