To this end, the Wisconsin Department of Transportation will ensure compliance with the related civil rights and nondiscrimination statutes and regulations which prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, disability and age in all programs, service or activities.

Any person who believes his /her Title VI protection has been violated may file a complaint with the Wisconsin Department of Transportation. Information on WisDOT's Title VI complaint procedure is available here.

Introduction

Purpose of the Annual Report

The Annual Report is prepared by the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) Transit Section to provide citizens, transportation providers, public officials and other stakeholders an overview of transit in Wisconsin. The report provides a summary of federal and state public and specialized transportation programs along with detailed operational and financial data.

Organization of the Annual Report

The Annual Report begins with a brief overview of the Transit Section with the main part of the report being organized into two sections: Public Transit and Specialized Transit. The appendix of the report provides a county listing of both public and specialized transit service contact information. All contacts listed are current at the time of publication.

The Public Transit Section includes information on programs and services, statewide statistics, trend data, performance measures, major accomplishments and detailed fact sheets of each transit system. There are 81 public transit systems in Wisconsin, which are divided into Tier A1, Tier A2, Tier B and Tier C. The Tier A1 and A2 systems are grouped by operating expenses and Tier B and C systems are grouped based on population served. The Tier A1 system has operating expenses of $80 million or more, and Tier A2 system has operating expenses between $20 million and $80 million. Tier B systems operate in areas greater 50,000 in population (excluding Tiers A1 and A2) and Tier C between 2,500 and 50,000 in population. For the purposes of this report, Tier A1 and A2 will be combined and referred to as Tier A. Tier A has two systems, Tier B, 24 systems and Tier C, 49 systems. These tiers will be used to present and organize information within the report. Statewide statistics and trend data are divided by tier and the fact sheets are grouped by tier and then listed alphabetically.

The Specialized Transit Section includes information on programs and services, major accomplishments and detailed fact sheets. The information that is presented on the detailed fact sheets is dependent on each specialized program and is organized into statewide statistics, county or tribe.

Fact Sheet Limitation

The transit fact sheets provide overview information that was obtained from what sub-recipients have reported to WisDOT. Some data may appear as unaudited from the sub-recipient. For public transit systems, the hours are from the earliest time all routes begin to the latest time all routes end. There may be breaks in service and all routes may not run these hours. Detailed information can be found on the websites or by contacting the transit service.

Transit Section Overview

In the organizational structure of WisDOT, the Transit Section is located in the Bureau of Transit, Local Roads, Railroads, and Harbors within the Division of Transportation Investment Management (Fig. 1).

*Bureaus in Divisions are omitted for image clarity

The role of the Transit Section is to administer federal and state funding programs, provide oversight for regulatory compliance and develop policies. Program and Policy Analysts fulfill roles in Administration and Finance, and Program and Policy Development. The list provides current, at the time of publication, staff contact information and specific responsibilities.

Federal and State Programs

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) Transit Section administers federal and state transit funds for capital, operating, planning and training expenses to support public bus, van and shared-ride taxi systems.

Statewide Planning Program (5304)

This program provides assistance to support work and activities resulting in balanced and comprehensive intermodal transportation planning for the movement of people and goods. Examples of projects that have been funded through this program include transit development plans, feasibility studies, strategic plans, and ridership surveys. Recognized public entities in Wisconsin are eligible to apply for funds under this program. This includes, but is not limited to, cities, counties, tribes, transit commissions, metropolitan planning organizations and regional planning commissions. This program covers up to 80 percent of eligible expenses incurred on the project. The remaining 20 percent of expenses are covered locally. The local match must come from a source other than U.S. Department of Transportation dollars. Applications are reviewed for this program on a rolling basis throughout the year.

Federal Formula Grant Program for Urbanized Areas (5307)

This program provides assistance with capital expenses, including bus replacement and capitalized maintenance, for transit systems in large urbanized areas (population > 200,000). In Wisconsin these systems include Green Bay Metro, Madison Metro, Milwaukee County Transit System and Valley Transit in Appleton. The grant amounts for each large urbanized area system are determined directly by the Federal Transit Administration (FTA). This program also provides capital and operating assistance for small urbanized areas (population 50,000 – 200,000). For the 22 small urban systems in Wisconsin, the grant amounts are determined by formula.

Federal Formula Grant Program for Rural Areas (5311)

This program provides assistance with capital and operating expenses for public transportation in non-urbanized areas (population < 50,000). There are 49 bus or shared-ride taxi systems across the state that receives this type of funding. The annual funding amounts per system are equalized via formula statewide, combining grants from Federal Formula Grant Program for Rural Areas, Federal Formula Grant Program for Urbanized Areas, and the State Urban Mass Transit Operating Assistance Program.

Rural Transit Assistance Program (RTAP)

Federal funding from the 5311 program is set aside to support this program. The funding is used to further the development of skills and abilities for persons involved in providing transit services to rural areas.

Supplemental Transportation Rural Assistance Program (STRAP) (5314)

This was a pilot project created and authorized under the Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA-LU) to determine the degree to which rural and non-urbanized area mobility options could be increased by reducing the required non-federal share. It provides funding for starting, expanding or continuing rural transit projects in 2011 or later. Eligible applicants are local public entities including counties, municipalities, agencies, transit commissions, and Native American Tribes.

Bus and Bus Facilities (5339)

This is a federally funded grant program within the Moving Ahead for Progress in the 21st Century (MAP-21) Act that began in 2013. It provides capital funding to replace, rehabilitate, and purchase buses and related equipment and to construct bus related facilities. Grants are awarded to urban systems through a competitive application process with evaluation criteria based on consistency with local transit priorities, age and deferred maintenance of vehicles or facilities, and a demonstrated commitment of the local share. Eligible applicants include public agencies and private non-profits engaged in public transportation, including organizations that provide services dependent on age, disability or low-income.

State Urban Mass Transit Operating Assistance (85.20)

The state funds from this program are combined with federal 5311 or 5307 funds to provide operating cost assistance to transit systems to alleviate local tax burdens. Eligible applicants include municipalities or counties with population greater than 2,500 and transit or transportation commissions or authorities. Non-public agencies are not eligible for these funds. The grant amounts are determined by the Tier System as defined in the state statute and described earlier in this report.

Intercity Bus Program

Intercity bus service plays an important role in Wisconsin's coordinated transportation network. The subsidized routes shown on the map (Fig. 3) not only connect large urban centers, but more importantly, stop in rural areas to ensure residents there can reach those urban areas for work-related, personal, and leisure trips (facilitating multi-modal travel via airports and rail stations), as well as trips to universities, other educational institutions, and major medical facilities.

WisDOT contracts directly with providers to operate the intercity bus routes, awarding the contract through a competitive process. The FTA requires that 15 percent of Wisconsin's funds from the Federal Formula Grant Program for Rural Areas (5311) are used for intercity bus routes unless the state certifies that intercity bus service needs are met. FTA funds cover a maximum of 50 percent of the net operating losses of those routes, plus any eligible capital costs from adjacent unsubsidized routes that feed into the overall intercity bus network.

Wisconsin began providing Intercity Bus Program funds in 2011, fully subsidizing the six routes listed below, as well as a Duluth to Eau Claire route so the program could cover a majority of the state. For calendar year 2014, the Duluth to Eau Claire route was discontinued due to a lack of state funding availability.

- Duluth-Hurley (Indian Trails)
- Minneapolis-Green Bay-Milwaukee (Jefferson Lines)
- La Crosse – Madison/Milwaukee (Jefferson Lines)
- Green Bay – Madison (Lamers)
- Wausau – Madison (Lamers)
- Dubuque – Madison (Lamers)

WisDOT has a partnership with Michigan DOT to support intercity bus travel between the Upper Peninsula and the Superior / Duluth area as well as Green Bay and Milwaukee. This arrangement should help U.P. and northern Wisconsin residents meet their regional and national travel needs in the future.

Statewide Performance Measures

This section provides an introduction to two performance measures that WisDOT uses to evaluate the efficiency of the department: the Mobility, Accountability, Preservation, Safety and Service (MAPSS) Performance Improvement Program and the Cost Efficiency Report.

MAPSS Performance Improvement Program

The MAPSS Performance Improvement Program is a department-wide initiative led by the Secretary of Transportation, Mark Gottlieb, and implemented in December 2011. It provides five core goals/performance measures to guide WisDOT in providing safe and efficient transportation. The five performance measures are defined as the following:

- Mobility: Delivering transportation choices that result in efficient trips and no unexpected delays.
- Accountability: The continuous effort to use public dollars in the most efficient and cost-effective way.
- Preservation: Protecting, maintaining and operating Wisconsin's transportation system efficiently by making sound investments that preserve and extend the life of our infrastructure, while protecting our natural environment.
- Safety: Moving toward minimizing the number of deaths, injuries and crashes on our roadways.
- Service: High quality and accurate products and services delivered in a timely fashion by a professional and proactive workforce.

WisDOT releases a quarterly progress report to inform the public and policy makers on the progress in meeting these goals. This quarterly progress report also provides transparency and accountability, creates a results driven environment, and assists with the national performance measures that are required under MAP-21.

In addition to the quarterly progress report, an interactive website (<http://www.mapss.wi.gov>) provides scorecards on each performance measure. These scorecards list the performance measure, how it is measured, the current reporting period, the goal, a check mark if the goal is met, the trend and comments. An example for the Transit Section is the performance measure of transit availability, under the mobility goal, which evaluates the percent of the population that is served by transit.

The Transit Grant Application Improvement Process Lean Project was implemented by the Transit Section to address performance measures. It specifically addresses the performance measure of service with goals to reduce the number of incomplete applications submitted and reduce staff hours spent on application review and approval. The results were a reduction in staff hours to review individual applications, a reduction in travel expenses, and the creation of a separate compliance review process.

Cost Efficiency Report

WisDOT is required to have cost efficiency standards for the state's transit systems, as specified by Wis. Statute 85.20 and Administrative Rule TRANS 4. The cost efficiency report considers the six performance indicators which are used to compare the relative efficiency of transit systems.

Wisconsin transit systems are broken into seven categories for the purposes of the report: small-community bus, medium-community bus, commuter bus, shared-ride taxi services, county-wide taxi services, as well as Madison and Milwaukee County peer groups. Dividing the systems in this manner allows for fair and reasonable comparisons. Madison Metro, Milwaukee County Transit System, and medium-sized bus systems are compared to a group of nationwide peers, all of whom report their statistics to the National Transit Database. The analyses for the small-community and commuter bus systems, as well as shared-ride taxi services, use a statewide peer group for comparison, since comparable national transit data are not available.

Major Accomplishments

New Services

Shoreline Metro added a new route that provides service to the downtown, South Pier, Riverfront and Marina during the summer months. This new route addressed connectivity issues between these areas and provided over 1,600 trips during its first summer.¹

Planning

Beloit Transit System (BTS) began a Transit Development Plan with the consulting firm Nelson\Nygaard that is expected to be completed in 2015. BTS is working closely with riders, the community and service providers to ensure that local issues and concerns are taken into account in the plan.²

Green Bay Metro completed a Comprehensive Bus Stop study with Brown County Planning/Green Bay MPO that reviewed and assessed each bus stop for accessibility improvements.³

Vehicles/Equipment/Technology

The Milwaukee County Transit System (MCTS) introduced new fare boxes on all fixed-route buses along with new smart card technology. The MCTS M•CARD can be loaded with 1-day, 7-day and 31-day passes at retail outlets around the city. It provides riders with a more convenient and secure way to pay fares. It also reduces the risk of non-payments and provides MCTS with ridership data that can assist in route planning.⁴

Madison Metro Transit replaced fare boxes that were more than 20 years old with new electronic fare boxes on all fixed-route buses in June 2014. These new fare boxes can help lower maintenance costs, increase convenience for riders and improve ridership data. Madison Metro Transit also installed audible turn signals on all fixed-route buses. Buses now make an audible chirp when signaling a turn in traffic or pulling into a stop which increases safety.⁵

GO Transit in Oshkosh installed Automatic Passenger Counters on all buses, which will provide data to improve route and bus stop planning.⁶

Facilities

There are a number of benefits to constructing new facilities, including, but not limited to modernizing facilities for efficiency and providing more vehicle storage. In 2014 Janesville completed its Transit Service Center which serves as the new operations and maintenance facility. This new facility is nearly double the size, with five maintenance bays and storage for 18 buses. It is designed for economical expansion to include storage for an additional ten buses. This allows for growth with city and regional transportation needs in the future.⁸

SPECIALIZED TRANSIT

Introduction

In addition to public transit, the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) Transit Section administers federal and state transit funds to assist with operating and/or capital expenses to support specialized transit services and programs. Specialized transit programs can provide services for seniors, disabled and low-income individuals.

Federal and State Programs

Transportation for Elderly Persons and Persons with Disabilities (5310)¹ / Elderly and Disabled Transportation Capital Assistance Program (85.22)

This program utilizes federal 5310 and state 85.22 funds to provide assistance with vehicle purchase projects that improve the mobility of seniors and individuals with disabilities.² The cost of the vehicle is split 80/20 with local paying 20 percent. Grants are awarded on a two-year application cycle. Eligible applicants include private non-profits, local units of government and operators of public transit.

New Freedom (5317)³

This is an annual competitive federal grant program intended to provide additional tools for overcoming transportation barriers to Americans with disabilities who are seeking to fully participate in society. New Freedom funds will support new public transportation services and alternative services beyond those required by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) designed to assist individuals with disabilities in accessing transportation services. Projects include: mobility management, operating assistance, volunteer driver, voucher and capital purchase. Eligible applicants include private non-profit organizations, local public bodies, and operators of public transportation services, including private operators of public transportation services.

¹ At the writing of this report the name has changed to “Enhanced Mobility of Seniors and Individuals with Disabilities”

² MAP-21, which went into effect October 2012, expanded this program to also include operating expenses. WisDOT will be implementing this change for the 2015 application cycle.

³ Program was repealed in MAP-21; projects that were eligible for this funding will be eligible for funding under 5310. WisDOT will be implementing this change for the 2015 application cycle.

Specialized Transportation Assistance Program for Counties (85.21)⁴

This program provides all 72 Wisconsin counties with financial assistance for transportation services for elderly and disabled individuals. State funds are allocated to the counties on an annual basis based on their elderly and disabled population and require a 20 percent local match. Eligible expenses include providing direct, assisting in funding or purchasing transportation service from any public or private provider, coordinating transportation services, in-service training for transportation services, purchasing equipment such as vehicles and wheelchair lifts, directly subsidizing passengers for use of transportation services, and conducting planning/management transportation studies.

Tribal Transportation for Elders (85.215)

This is a state funded program that began in 2009 and provides funds to assist in tribal elderly transportation. Funds are awarded on an annual application cycle to eligible applicants, with each of the 11 federally recognized tribes in Wisconsin receiving an equal share. Eligible expenses include providing transportation services, reimbursing tribal elderly individuals for use of transportation, planning/management transportation studies, coordinating transportation services, and in-service training for transportation services.

Wisconsin Employment Transportation Assistance Program (WETAP)

This program provides funding for new or expanding programs that assist in meeting employment transportation needs for low-income workers. It began as a joint effort between WisDOT and the Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development (DWD) and combined federal Job Access Reverse Commute (JARC) funds, WisDOT Transportation Employment and Mobility (TEAM) funds and DWD Employment Transit Assistance (ETA) funds. Grants are awarded through an annual competitive grant application process. Eligible applicants include public, private and non-profit transportation providers. Examples of projects include late-night and weekend service, guaranteed ride home service, expanding fixed-route public transit, car loan programs, ridesharing, mobility management and transportation coordination, and demand-response van service. The JARC Program was repealed in MAP-21 and activities were made eligible for public federal 5311 or 5307 funds. The federal JARC funds that remain from previous years, along with TEAM and ETA funds will be used to extend grant agreements through calendar year 2014 for 2013 WETAP grant recipients who were unable to join the public transit programs.

⁴ At the writing of this report the name has changed to “County Elderly and Disabled Transportation Assistance”

Federal Initiatives

Mobility Management

Mobility management is an innovative approach for managing and delivering coordinated transportation services to customers, including seniors, individuals with disabilities and individuals with lower incomes. It focuses on meeting individual customer needs through a wide range of transportation options and service providers. Mobility management also focuses on coordinating those services and providers in an effort to achieve more an efficient transportation system. Mobility managers work in a variety of agencies including ADRCs, local governments, community action programs, transit systems, human/social service agencies, independent living centers and economic opportunity councils. Tasks include inventorying existing services, identifying customer needs, developing strategies to meet needs, coordinating financial and other resources, training staff/volunteers, promoting innovative technologies and developing trip planning systems. Funding can come from a variety of sources including New Freedom, WETAP and STRAP. With the repeal of the New Freedom Program in MAP-21, projects are eligible for funding under 5310.

Transportation Coordination

Transportation coordination is a process in which human service agencies, transportation providers, consumer groups and public officials work together to improve transportation services for transportation disadvantaged individuals. It includes cooperation, coordination and sharing of resources to achieve the goals of improving transportation options and access, minimizing service duplication and facilitating cost effective transportation. Federal transit law requires that in order for projects to receive 5310, WETAP or New Freedom funding they must be derived from a locally developed, coordinated public transit-human services transportation plan. These plans need to be redone every 4 or 5 years, depending on the location in the state. WisDOT has collaborated with Regional Planning Commissions to develop a coordination planning process and toolkit in response to this requirement.

Major Accomplishments

New Freedom

In 2014, there were 22 New Freedom projects that were awarded across the rural, small urban and urban areas of Wisconsin. These projects covered 33 counties in the state, mostly in the rural areas, and provided much needed transportation services for individuals with disabilities. Overall, these 22 projects were awarded $1,563,975 that was spent on transportation services such as volunteer drivers, voucher programs, mobility management positions, marketing for transportation services, training of drivers and staff, and capital costs of maintaining specialized transportation vehicles and others to ensure that individuals with disabilities across the state were able to get to important destinations. Over the course of the year, the 22 New Freedom projects provided almost 90,000 rides throughout the state and made over two million contacts with residents looking for specialized transportation services.

2014 marked the last year of the New Freedom program as it will be enveloped into the Section 5310 Enhanced Mobility for Seniors and Individuals with Disabilities Program in 2015. All the New Freedom type projects will continue to be funded under Section 5310 in 2015 but with the additional emphasis of providing transportation services for seniors as well as individuals with disabilities.
