By Doris Bezio

Midnight Sailor

Stars have fallen to earth, their light

quivers on indigo waves.

He raises white sails,
sets an even course
down the silver path of the moon.

By Jonathan Mojock

The weight of the world
rests upon the tree,
but still she stands empowering those around her with breath exhaled
yet however mighty her force of will, she still must inhale

City of Green Bay 2019 Sidewalk Poems

By Joshua Hembel

Become another creature amongst the season's change beholden to the spring and the solitude of the range thankful for the struggle one I finally understand a life somehow so simple so undecided and grand

By Shelly Paul

You might say
Home
Is where you
Lay your head Home for me is Not wanting to
Be anywhere
Instead

Looking At a Clock

If you look close to a...

clock

It looks like a...

person

with a

moustache!
