

ANGEL WING

Please do NOT feed bread products to waterfowl (ducks and geese).

Have you ever seen a goose like this? “Angel Wing” is a condition caused by a nutritional deficiency and high amounts of carbohydrates and sugars.

When people feed bread products to ducks and geese, it greatly increases the occurrence of this condition.

In young birds, the combination of high carbs and low nutrients can cause their wrist joints to develop improperly and affects the growth of their primary flight feathers.

This creates the angel wing appearance.

Once the bird is mature, this condition is permanent.

These birds cannot fly.
